Village of Eagle Residents to Receive Additional Recycling Bin

The County, Village Board and Johns Disposal cooperate to increase recycling

Waukesha, (Wis) – New blue recycling bins will be arriving curbside in mid-May to be used along side the yellow bins in the Village of Eagle. Johns Disposal is distributing the bins to all households. A Residential Recycling Guide explaining the items that can be recycled will be included.

The County is providing the bins free in order to help communities increase recycling participation. According to Karen Fiedler, who manages the county recycling program, “We want to make sure every household has adequate recycling bins and knows what to put in them. Since residents already have yellow bins, we didn’t want to change the system completely. The new bin will remind residents to include more paper in their recycling efforts along with bottles, cans, and jars. Increased participation will help save landfill space and cost. We want to remind people that they are throwing away revenue for their community when they throw away recyclables!”
